Idioms: just a figure of speech...

Where it all started...

id·i·om (id' eəm) n. an accepted phrase or expression contrary to the usual patterns of the language or having meaning different from the literal - or - just a figure of speech.

Yes, it's a mouthful. But I grew up in the South, and we spoke in "idioms". This project started with memories of my Papaw Joe. A saying I'll always remember him using was "Eating high on the hog". I started looking up idioms and fell in love with the project. The history of some idioms goes back thousands of years. You find them in the Bible, famous plays, popular songs and political writings to name a few. I chose idioms that when I read them, say them, or hear them POP!, a visual comes in my head. And a new one is born!

These designs start as original works of art. They are mixed media on 12 x 12 inch canvas. I love archived illustrations, etchings and wood engravings and they are the basis for the work that I do. I also use found objects such as feathers, stickers and jewelry and experiment using different gels and mediums to get the effect I want.

I've lived all over the country but have settled with my family on the Kitsap peninsula in Washington. They are very supportive and also involved in my art, often suggesting idioms they have heard or read. I love creating this art, it makes people laugh. And after all, everyone needs a laugh...

Items are printed, designed, and produced in the USA.
